Freshmen Will Meet for Enrollment at the College September 13, at 9 o'clock Sharp.

Steps in Enrollment.

First: A student who has not attended this college previously, should have a transcript of his high school credits filed with the registrar, Miss Nell Hudson, Room 203. If the student has any college credit in another institution, a transcript, together with a statement of honorable dismissal, should be filed. All enrollments will be treated as temporary until such transcripts are filed with the registrar.

A student who has attended this college previously, will get his course book from the registrar, seeing that the registrar has entered on it all the credits to which he is entitled.

Second: Attend Assembly at 9:00 o'clock Tuesday morning and fill out information blanks and get full instruction for enrollment.

Third: All enrolling students secure blanks at the information desk in the West Library on the first floor of the College building. Each student will then go to his or her adviser who will assist in making program, and who will sign the enrollment card when the program is completed and approved. Before a program card is to be approved by an adviser it must be approved by the member of the department of Physical Education. Placards will indicate Freshman advisers. Students who have chosen their majors will be advised by the chairmen of the departments in which the major work is taken. High school students will secure blanks and enroll in room 122. After first two days enrollment, cards are supplied by the Registrar.

Fourth: All girls will have their programs checked and approved as to living quarters by the Dean of Women at her office in Room 209 at the east end of the second floor. Students who have not already secured living quarters may secure a list of approved homes from the Dean of Women.

Fifth: The incidental and activity fee is to be paid to the Treasurer in Room 115 on the first floor of the College Building, after card has been signed by adviser. An incidental fee receipt and an activity card will be given. After the first two days of enrollment the Treasurer will be at the Citizens Bank. This fee is not subject to refund.

Sixth: Book deposit is to be made at the table adjoining the Treasurer's desk in Room 115 on the first floor of the College building and receipt is to be secured, which entitles the student to textbooks. After the first two days of enrollment the book deposit will be made in the office of the Business Manager.

When Mr. Larson was a member of the College faculty, he taught violin and had charge of the College band and orchestra. Mrs. Larson completed work at the College for the B. S. degree in 1924 and the A. B. degree in 1925. Since leaving Maryville, Mr. and Mrs. Larson spent two years at Columbia University, New York, where they completed work for their M. A. degrees. The Larsons both have Ph.D. degrees in music from Iowa University. COACHES DAVIS AND IBA SEND MEN THROUGH HARD DRILL—FIRST GAME SEPTEMBER 30.

The football season of 1932 is well under way with the opening of the football camp, under the direction of Coaches Davis and Iba at the college field, September 5. More than fifty men had reported for practice by Tuesday evening. The men are as follows: Otis Smith, Mitzel, Sullivan, Shelton, Marr, Dunham, Cronkite, Stigall, Redmon, Milner, Jones, Alsop, Cowden, Curley, Borgmier, Hinde, Dalby, Mix, Egdorf, Palumbo, Greene, Furse, Emrich, Allen, Herold, Hicks, Praisewater, Tracy, Meredith, Kissinger, Ray Palm, C. The schedule as now outlined is a heavy one of eight games with the possible addition of another. The Bearcats were widely mentioned last year in the metropolitan press for their splendid record of a perfect season, never having lost a game.

Coach Iba, today, was unable to confirm the rumor that a game with Oklahoma City University will be added to the schedule and will be played there on the nineteenth of September. He said that a definite announcement would be made soon concerning that game.

The Bearcat football schedule is as follows:

TEACHING ETHICS

In the light of the present crisis there has been demonstrated more clearly than ever the need for some conception of what is ethical in the teaching profession. The teaching profession has been brought to a low state by the total lack of consideration for the rights of other teachers by students and teachers applying for a position. The Missouri Teachers Association has set up certain ethical principles to guide the teaching profession in their ethical conduct but they seem to be a dead letter. The man or woman who knowingly applies for a position where there is no vacancy announced and attempts to oust the present holder of the contract by underbidding is beneath contempt and is doing a very serious damage to the profession. The teachers of this country hold that they are a profession but they will never be really, and truly a profession until they begin to insist upon their rights as professional people and until some system or code of ethics is generally understood and practiced.

There is no better way to enforce a standard of ethical conduct than through the state or national Education Association which had the power to suspend or revoke certificates for unprofessional conduct or breach of the ethical code. The American Medical Association and the American Bar Association can and do enforce a standard of professional ethics and practice. It is time for the teachers to make teaching a real profession.

WILBUR HEEKIN.

THE ART OF LEARNING

Northwest Missouri State Teachers College has a reputation for providing good assemblies. Usually they offer something worthwhile—something no student who is conscientious in the search for knowledge can afford to miss. The value of these assemblies can hardly be over-estimated, and it should be considered a privilege to attend them.

Now and then we find some members of the student body who are not pleased with a particular program. In such cases it is not for them to go about decrying the continuance of that type of entertainment. If assembly programs are uninteresting, students and faculty should suggest the type in which they are interested.

Quite often, too, some programs which do not seem particularly entertaining are really of the most value. Many of the best things of life seem dull during the acquisition of them. For instance, the alphabet was but a prosaic subject when we were learning it. But very few of the most charming hours of our lives could we have enjoyed had we not thoroughly familiarized ourselves with the basic instrument of reading and writing.

So it is with assembly programs—if they are not as entertaining as we should like, let us absorb them anyhow, and be grateful for the good which they will bring to us.

KERMIT CULVER.

Are We Thinkers?

By
Wallace Culver

In a short while the good old college practice of hazing will be invoked by the upperclassmen to let the incoming freshmen know that the College has a tradition to uphold. Every fall the upperclassmen have to indulge in their Stone Age proclivities. Hazing these poor freshmen lads not only maintains the proper collegiate atmosphere, but it also greatly tickles the vanities of the "big boys" in the upper classes. These fellows get an inordinate delight out of making some poor "greener" bow to their authority. These upperclassmen do not respect the pride or the feelings of the new student who, instead of being humiliated and angered, should be helped by his elder brethren to become accustomed to college life. The average freshman finds it hard enough to reconcile himself to the college atmosphere without being subjected to the whims of a few boys who must have their Neolithic fun. The freshmen can stand to have certain rules established for them to obey, such as wearing the green cap, but when upperclassmen trump up certain infractions of these rules and proceed to vigorously paddle the violator thereof, it seems that this is a little more than the freshmen should be called upon to bear. A great deal of trouble and ill-feeling has been engendered by the excessive application of the practice of hazing which is against the rules of the college. It is up to upperclassmen to use common sense and discretion in regard to this practice. Let's think about it!

Do You Want a Tower?

President Lamkin has delivered a number of old College Towers to room 212. Students who care to have them may call for them. The books which are in excellent condition are the few extras which have been printed each year. Since there were not enough of them to send to each of the schools in Northwest Missouri the books have collected in the office. The Towers are for the years '23, '25 and '26.

Miss Audrian Farrar, a graduate of the College recently returned to teaching duties at Ottumwa, Iowa.

Announcement

According to an announcement by Mr. H. T. Phillips, chairman of the Education Department of the College, students will enroll in the College High School, Wednesday, September 14. Students will enroll in the Kindergarten and Elementary schools of the College on next Thursday, September 15, when class work for the children will begin.

Buses will run on the usual routes until the needs are determined.

COLLEGE HIGH WILL OPEN ON SEPT. 14

H. T. PHILLIPS WILL CONTINUE AS SUPERINTENDENT AND H. R. DIETERICH AS PRINCIPAL.

The College at Maryville announces the opening of the next term of the College High School on September 14. Mr. H. T. Phillips will continue as Superintendent and Mr. H. R. Dieterich as Principal of the High School, while the teaching will again be under the direct supervision of the members of the College faculty.

Some rearrangement of rooms in the College building will make it possible to use almost one-half of the first floor for the High School. Those in charge expect to put a high school library in the "home room." Mr. Dieterich's plans contemplate more opportunities in Music and Debate, a separate High School Annual, and a constantly improving High School service.

Fees will be the same as last year. There are no fees charged any high school student living in Missouri outside of a school district which maintains a first class high school. If a locker is desired a 50c deposit for the locker key is required. For those who live in first class high school districts a book deposit of $5 (out of which $3 may be refunded at the end of the quarter or year) and the payment of an incidental and activity fee of $5 per quarter is required.

Textbooks will be furnished to all enrolled students. The College will not require any payment from common school districts for students who come to the College High school.

There is nothing in the school law, old or new, which requires any student to attend any particular high school. The College High school is recognized in the new school law in the same way other high schools are recognized.

Mr. Dieterich will be in his office, Room 101 Main Building, Monday and Tuesday, September 12 and 13, to enroll students, and to give desired information.

Autumn Memories

September brings its memories
Of school days long departed,
Of dusty road and village street
And barefoot boys, downhearted.

Our steps we turned toward the school,
But with a vague misgiving,
For classwork, so it seemed to us,
Took all the joy from living.

But then we heard the lusty shout,
The glad cries of welcome—
And we, our noisy greetings loosed
Upon the ringing welkin.

We met our friends and heard their tales
Of summer spent in playing,
And listened to their various plans
For the start of school delaying.

The schoolyard bully, too, was there,
Our hated adversary,
Who loved to cause the smaller boys
His books to fetch and carry.

Unhappy days? perhaps they were—
And yet, in retrospection,
We would not have them changed
At all.

In our fond recollection.
—Kermit Culver.

Former Students Enroll Son.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wood who live west of Bolckow were at the College Tuesday, September 6, to see about enrolling their son, Vernan Wood. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wood were former S. T. C. students. Mr. Wood said that he was a student at the College when the equipment of the old Seminary building was moved to the present Administration building and that he helped to move it. Mrs. Wood, formerly Mona Hoshor, was also a student here at that time.

Miss Eleanor Nicholas, B. S., 1930, recently left Maryville for White City, Kansas, where she will again teach home economics and music in the public schools of that city.

HEAD OF COMMERCE DEPARTMENT IS MAN OF MANY INTERESTS

E. W. MOUNCE'S TALENTS INCLUDE MUSIC, ART, AND LITERATURE, AS WELL AS BUSINESS.

In checking over the list of notables and worthy members of the College faculty the Snooper's eyes have rested momentarily on a gentleman and scholar by the name of E. W. Mounce. While this member of the faculty has several titles he is generally known at this institution as the chairman of the commerce department.

Whoever it was in ancient times that said he was looking for a man would have no trouble in finding a real man in Mr. Mounce if modern estimates are any good.

Mr. Mounce might easily fit in with the art department since it is known that he has painted several pictures. He could easily mingle with those in the music department, since he used to play trumpet in his college band and orchestra and at one time played the piano to a certain degree of excellency. He could easily fit in with the speech department of the College since in his undergraduate days he was president of a forensics club, and a literary society and won a medal in oratory.

Mr. Mounce's ability was recognized in his undergraduate work even as it is today, since he won a scholarship to the University of Missouri and one to Harvard.

Marvin College at Fredericktown, Mo., Maryville College at Maryville, Tennessee, and the University of Missouri were his undergraduate schools.

The chairman of the commerce department has taught in the high schools at Fredericktown and Elvins, Mo., and in William Jewell College, Marvin College, Warrensburg, S. T. C., Christian College at Columbia, and the University of Redlands, at Redlands, Calif.

It is quite noticeable that some of his hobbies are tennis, volley ball, writing and automobile trips and keeping track of Babson and his reports. He admits that when the depression was on he economized by eating tough steak and staying at home.

When the book is returned the student should claim and keep the receipt signed for it. Unless the receipt is claimed, the student can not be given credit for the return of the book.

Division of Freshmen into Groups
Freshmen will be divided into three groups and assigned to Freshmen English and Citizenship. Freshmen Education classes will be assigned according to Note 1. As the number in each class is limited, the groups will take the subjects as assigned if they are to be taken this year.

STUDENTS SHOULD MAKE FULL USE OF COLLEGE LIBRARY

EXCEPTIONAL FACILITIES ARE OFFERED — METHODS ARE EXPLAINED IN DETAIL.

There are two main divisions of the library, known as the East Library and the West Library. The West Library contains the most used reference books, current magazines, sample text books, and all books that are placed on reserve by members of the faculty.

Magazines may be checked out for home reading after five o'clock and should be returned before nine the next morning. Reference books and books on reserve should be used in the west library and returned to the shelves.

The West Library is for the use of the students and faculty members who do not want to be disturbed. No conversation is permitted. Students and faculty members are asked to cooperate in making it an ideal place to study. The East Library contains the charge desk, book stacks and magazine racks.

The three north rooms contain files of newspapers, magazines, bulletins, etc., books, etc.

All students have free access to the book stacks and magazine files.

A display case filled with the new books may be found in the East Library. Students should get the habit of examining the new books before they are placed on the shelves.

Classification.
A classification of books is the process of grouping them in order according to subject and giving to each book a corresponding number which will indicate the particular group to which it belongs.

The Dewey Decimal System is used in this library, as in almost all libraries. The decimal system divides the field of knowledge into nine main classes, which are numbered from 100 to 900. Encyclopedias, periodicals, etc., so general in character as to belong to one of these classes, from a tenth class, numbered 000. Each of these ten classes is then again subdivided into ten smaller divisions.

The card catalog is the key to the sources of the library. It is a record of all the books on the shelves. Each book has two or more cards in the catalog—one is for the author, one for the title and one is for the subject that brought out in the book. The card catalog tells how many books there are in the library by a given author, who wrote certain books which are better known by title than by author, how many books of a given author the library contains and what books there are on a given subject.

Books arranged on the shelves by number on the top line of the call number, then alphabetically by the letter on the lower line and numerically by the figures following the letter. The shelves are read from left to right and from top to bottom, like the pages of a book.

The library force consists of Librarian, Assistant Librarian and a sufficient number of student assistants to handle the routine work of the library.

The College Library contains all the reference books that are useful in a college of this type. Students should become acquainted with the books early in their college days.

They should also learn how to use the Readers Guide to Periodical Literature, the United States Catalog of Books, the Cumulative Book Index, Atlases, New York Times Index, Index to the United States Daily, Publishers Trade List Annual, etc.

The librarian and members of the library staff are always glad to assist students in the use of the library and in finding the information they want on subjects. The policy is to help students to help themselves. If the student will get familiar with the system of this library he will always find material he wants in any library.

Ask for what you want. The librarians can always stop their work to assist faculty members and students.

The north end of the balcony is reserved for students in the Psychology classes.

The Browsing Room is at the south end of the balcony. There one can find the new books on display. Students could get acquainted with new books before they are placed on the shelves. Books of special interest are placed here for recreational reading.

The Library is open from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m.

STROLLER

In order to make occasional contacts with his fellow students during vacation the Stroller has been forced to meander at such a pace that he has lost considerable weight. It was quite worthwhile, however, as he saw much new country. He chanced upon Russel Hurley and Merlin Groom in Estes Park, encountered Norval Saylor in New Orleans, ran into Russel Noblett and Wilbur Heekin on New York's crowded Broadway, and was delighted to see various other students at the fox hunt in Pumpkin Center.

There is an unconfirmed report circulating about town that perhaps the vacation sun has been a little too much for Donald Robey. He was seen recently fishing with a hook and line in the rock pool in his front yard. Upon being questioned in regard to the matter, he said that he was merely fishing for frogs. Whether that explanation but adds new strength to the rumor, the Stroller is unable to determine.

It is said that during their recent trip through the East Wilbur Heekin and Russel Noblett found the various city parks to be very beautiful. However, the Stroller has not learned which side the two travelers take in the controversy now raging in this country over the respective merits of park benches and hotel bedrooms as sleeping quarters.

Neighbors say that Fred Lindsey has been doing some intensive piano practicing lately. They recommend him for an appearance in the College auditorium and are firm in their belief that he would keep the assembly awake.

The Stroller has already seen several of the school celebrities edging back toward the campus. Mac Egdon breezed in from Kansas singing "Case I Luf Yuh" and generally beaming in his famous way.

Russel Noblett the vice-president of the student council looked fatigued from his journey to Washington and New York and said he thought classes under Dr. Foster were easier than hitch-hiking.

Professor Kelly returned from California with two carburetors and two gas tanks on his car.

The first person the Stroller saw was Wallace Culver making a stump speech for Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate and preparing to run for mayor of the city in the spring.

Maxine Hudson, still smiling returned to the campus and brought along a younger sister. Is she good-looking? You say!

Jimmie Sillers is with us again, as debonair as ever. Jimmie says there is nothing like old S. T. O. That's right Jimmie.

"Tiger" Brown of last year's graduating class, the Hurley boys and Merlin Groom all hitch-hiked to Yellowstone National Park and all on a dollar or two. They finally joined the unemployed and resorted to the railroad we hear. Some say they became expert at dodging division cops and some say not. Let's have the lowdown.

After recalling the effect of being late to class on the teacher—and ultimately grades, etc.—The Stroller has decided to rent an alarm clock and learn how to manipulate it.

In order to avoid a crying spell like some of the worthy seniors went through last spring, in trying to meet all requirements for the degrees, the Stroller has decided to study the College catalog regularly every morning before breakfast.

The Stroller is letting the freshman boys in on a little secret. He is advising them not to fall in love with the first girl they meet since she might have a little sister to come to school next year who would be even more charming—Besides the girl might just be trying to get acquainted with your room mate—or, she might be engaged to someone back home—Or any number of un-thought-of situations might develop.

Well—anyway—"Hello, Everybody," and lots of good luck!

ALUMNI PRESENT COLLEGE THREE LARGE PORTRAITS

THREE VETERAN MEMBERS OF FACULTY ARE HONORED BY THE ASSOCIATION.

For the information of Freshmen and other students enrolling at the College for the first time, it might be interesting to mention that the Alumni Association of the College presented the College with large bust pictures of two of the present faculty members who have taught at the College for more than twenty-five years. These men who were so honored are Mr. G. H. Colbert, chairman of the Mathematics Department of the College and Mr. T. H. Cook, teacher of history. The Association presented each of these worthy gentlemen with a leather bound volume of personal letters of appreciation from former students and friends scattered over the United States.

Mr. W. A. Rickenbrode, who has served the College for twenty-five years as teacher, registrar and business manager, was also honored by the Association last spring and was presented with a gift.

The pictures of Mr. Colbert and Mr. Cook were unveiled in the presence of many friends in the west library last spring after the Alumni dinner and may be seen where they hang on the east wall of the west library.

A recent painting of President Lamin may be seen with other excellent paintings on the walls of the Social Hall at the east end of the second floor of the administration building.

Those on the executive committee of the Alumni Association for this year are, Miss Minnie B. James, president of the Association, chairman, Norval Saylor and Miss Violette Hunter.

From the Commerce Department.

Sometime ago the United States Department of Labor issued a report which shows that the cost of living declined a trifle less than ten per cent last year. Figures were gathered in 32 cities throughout the entire country.

The cost of food dropped 16.8%. Clothing dropped 11.4%; furniture, 11.2%; rent, 2.8%; fuel and light, 4%. What does all this mean? Well for one thing it means that each dollar of yield from investment has grown to $1.10 in one year.

Also, it means that if a person received interest or dividends a year ago amounting to, says $100, he had only to receive $90 this year to break even.

A dollar is as valuable as the things it will buy.
